TAB's quick fire questions

How long have you worked at TAB?

I joined TAB in January of 2022, after two years in the asset management industry where I worked with institutional investors across Europe to deliver market intelligence and connect them to like minded peers. Prior to financial services, I worked in international development in Washington DC, where I was involved with UN projects in Africa and South East Asia. I graduated with a dual degree in Global Studies and History from the University of California, Santa Barbara in the USA.

What does your role at TAB involve?

Investor relations works across departments at TAB, but has as a core function to be the primary point of contact to our private investors, and to pass and implement their feedback to the business. My day to day varies widely, but is centred around our investors - from drafting and offering investment opportunities, to sending portfolio performance updates, to onboarding new clients.

My favourite part is having face to face meetings with investors where I get to not only understand their investment criteria, but also meet them on a personal level! We have such a variety of investors from all walks of life, so I feel that I am always learning something new from all encounters.

What's the best thing about working at TAB?

I love how the staff come from different professional backgrounds and have different sets of skills that together, bring the perfect balance to the business. It's a privilege to work at such a cooperative office, where I can learn new things every day from my colleagues, and where new ideas are welcome all the time. Apart from the people, our office setting encourages well being, teamwork and creativity.
